

Spiritual Gifts Continued – Pastor Justin Ross

I Corinthians 12:27-31

You are the body of Christ.

- The hands & feet of Jesus = the church
- Every Christian has ministry to do.
- Every Christian plays a vital part.
- Diversity is our strength.

The issue of “greater gifts”

- The “greater gifts?” (Luke 22:25-27; Mark 10:42-45)
- What is it that we should truly desire?

Apostles

- Ambassador of the gospel. He who is sent.
- Are all Apostles? No.
- Difference between Apostle & apostle
- Qualifications to be an Apostle = hand-selected by Jesus and eyewitness of His resurrection
- Do capital “A” Apostles exist today?
- What is the gift of an apostle? Kelly Kosky is an apostle to South Africa.
- Jesus is heaven’s Apostle to earth.
- Where do you fit: Missions, church planter, ministry pioneer

Teachers

- Ability to understand and speak the Bible in a clear and relevant manner so there is understanding and application
- Love to learn, communicate and illustrate the truth; requirement to be a pastor

- Jesus was the greatest teacher.
- Where do you fit? Small group leader, mentoring, discipling, teach a class, parenting, preacher, etc.

Helps or service

- The ability to joyfully serve
- Attitude of humility, sacrifice and always looking to help others. You’ll do whatever needs to be done. Like to work behind the scenes.

- Jesus was the greatest servant of all.
- Where do you fit? Deacons, assistants to leadership – anywhere there is a need.

Administration

- God-given ability to organize and give direction toward efficient operations
- Very good with details, scheduling, great at bringing order out of chaos, reads the fine print, you love spread sheets, charts, graphs and sticky notes!
- Biblical examples: Jesus, Joseph, Jethro, Titus
- Where do you fit: leadership, finances; every ministry needs someone with the gift of administration.

“True worshippers” = people who know & use their God-given gifts to the fullest potential
